

A person is considered a full-time day student if that person:

- A. is enrolled in a participant school for which the current year's TAPPS membership dues and event fees.
- B. is enrolled in at least four academic classes,
 - a. which meet at least 200 minutes per week and 175 days per year
 - b. or equivalent as approved by the TAPPS Executive Board
- C. is attending the required classes
 - a. on the campus of the participant school.
 - b. Enrollment in an online school program or similar course offering does not satisfy the TAPPS requirements for being a Full Time Day Student.
- D. Dual Credit courses not administered or attended on the TAPPS member school campus do not count toward the four core classes necessary to be considered a TAPPS Full Time Day Student.
- E. is in compliance with written transfer and admission and attendance policies of the member school.